

Search by Content

Simple search

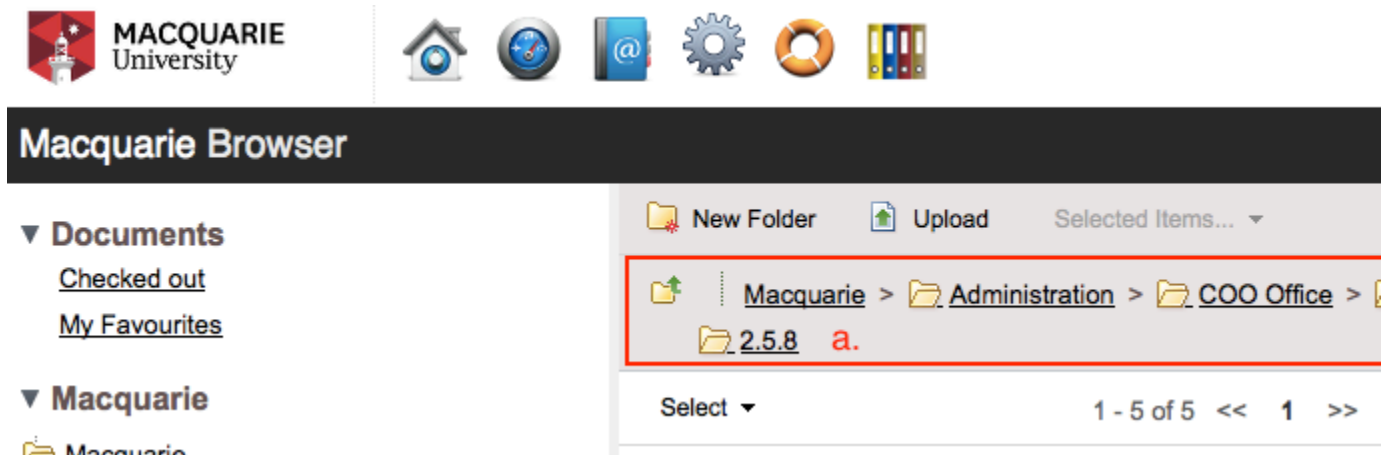

Simple search allow users to quickly search for a file or folder by keyword of content, metadata, name and description. Simple Search is a "and" search, which means that the more terms you enter, the less results are returned.

Search only this folder

If you know the folder location of the data you are looking for, it is more accurate and faster to perform search within a folder.

- a. First you will just need to navigate into the folder
- b. On the top right hand corner, select "Search only this folder" option from drop down
- c. Enter the search term and press Enter

Otherwise you may just enter the search term in the search box and press enter. It is by default "Search all folders" across the whole University repository.
